Written in the Wounds

By Colleen Jurkiewicz
Dorman

For all the condemnation Thomas the Doubter has received in 2000 years of homilies, I think there's something to admire in him.

Thomas is not unique. We all waver at some point, overcome by hesitation, distracted by the clamor of the world which seeks at every turn to shout above the whisper of the divine.

Thomas knows what he saw on Good Friday: his friend nailed to a cross, a sword driven through His body. He saw the blood and the water. He saw these things with his own eyes, eyes given to him by God, eyes which have never failed him before. And God doesn't ask us to suspend reality to believe in Him. He only asks us to be discerning about how that reality is interpreted in our hearts.

Thomas knows the man before him is either a fraud, preying on the hopes and anxieties of the traumatized disciples, or He is the Christ, the Savior of the world, accomplisher of impossible things. But where to look, to tell the difference?

Satan once appeared to the great mystic saint, Teresa of Avila, disguised as Jesus. She knew instantly that he was a fraud. Enraged, he demanded to know where his deception had failed. "You have no wounds," she told him simply.

Could we have accepted a savior who did not bleed? I don't think we could, because sooner or later, we would all stand before Him and say, "Here is where the world hurt me. Here, and here, and here. What about you?" Christ can point to His hands, His feet, His side. "Here, and here, and here," He can say. "And I overcame them all."

It's the wounds, you see.

The truth is in the wounds.

From the Desk of Fr. Kevin

Dear Parishioners,

"Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you...Receive the Holy Spirit." Jesus speaks these words to us today. He gives the gift of the Holy Spirit to help us fulfill them today and tomorrow.

Although we may be as amazed as the disciples who first heard these words, we have the benefit of almost two thousand years of saints and Church life to guide us, to encourage us, to give us hope. We can be signs of faith to our world today when we welcome God's peace into our lives and put to work the power of the Holy Spirit entrusted to us.

With all the hardships and upheavals in our society, we understand well our need to receive mercy and to extend mercy to others. This Divine Mercy Sunday reminds us that Jesus extends His mercy to us and sends us as ambassadors of His reconciliation into our troubled world. Let us be joyful, persevering messengers of peace and hope.

On Tuesday after Easter, I had the opportunity to meet with Fr. Joshua Cochrac who will begin his pastoral ministry here in July. We took a quick tour of our facilities and Fr. Josh met with some of the parish staff. It was a good beginning. We will be working out an orientation program here as he continues his ministry at St. Charles Parish in Parma. Please continue to pray for us both.

Peace, Father Kevin

What is Divine Mercy?

First, we should start off with what mercy is in general. When we talk about mercy it means showing or giving compassion or forgiveness toward someone whom it is within your power to punish or harm. I like to think if it in the movies where there is a sword fight and the victor holds the sword at the throat of the vanquished. The loser is then at the mercy of the foe. It is within the champion's power to punish or to harm. Will mercy be shown?

Divine Mercy is the mercy shown by God. It is important to note that through the ages, God has always shown mercy. Even in the Old Testament, mercy is shown to the people who are enslaved in Egypt and God sends Moses as a deliverer. When the people are taken into captivity in Babylon, God shows His mercy to inspire King Cyrus to send the Jewish people back to rebuild and restore Jerusalem.

Of course, the greatest gift God ever gave to His people was when He sent Jesus to become one of us. Despite the fact that Jesus was rejected by the people, abandoned by His friends and crucified as a criminal, God never gave up on us. Jesus rose again on the third day and conquered the most ancient of enemies, death.

Divine Mercy was revealed to St. Maria Faustina Kowalska in the 1930's. St. Faustina was born in Poland and received apparitions from Jesus.

He instructed St. Faustina in the ways of God's Divine Mercy. Her spiritual director instructed St. Faustina to keep a diary, which is the source of the Church's teaching on Divine Mercy. In St. Faustina's

Diary, Mercy is called the greatest attribute of God. Jesus not only communicates it to Faustina, but entrusts her with the task of being the Apostle of Mercy: "Proclaim that mercy is the greatest attribute of God. All of the works of My hands are crowned with Mercy."

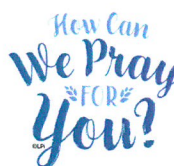

You may have heard it said that God is love. It is equally true that God is mercy. Love and mercy are inherent with God. God cannot be God without being love and mercy. It is not just something God does, but it is the very being of God. We celebrate and honor this when we celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday. We celebrate the God who is love and mercy and extends that mercy to us. He has the power to punish, but chooses mercy. In everything we do, we should be merciful just as our heavenly Father is merciful.

Peace and Blessings, Deacon Tim

Catholic Humor:

Little Frankie was in his aunt's wedding. As he came down the aisle, he would take two steps, stop, turn to the crowd, put his hands up like claws and roar! That's the way it went all down the aisle: step, step, ROAR; step, step, ROAR; step, step, ROAR. As you can imagine, the wedding guests were near tears from laughing by the time he reached the sanctuary. When the priest asked Frankie what he was doing, Frankie sniffed and said, "I was being the Ring Bear."

We will be celebrating Fr. Kevin's 50th Anniversary of Ordination to the Priesthood and retirement the weekend of June 8/9 after all Masses

Olive Wood Products from the Holy Land

Next weekend after all Masses, there will be an opportunity to purchase Olive Wood Products from the Holy Land.

Sue Musleh and her crafters will be visiting us with a large selection of traditional olive wood crafts that are made in Bethlehem in the Holy Land.

Olive wood religious carvings have long provided a living for those families who live in the town of Our Savior's birth but the decline in tourism has made it difficult for families to get by. The sale of these crafts help many to remain. Please stop by and see the displays of creches, crosses, and much more for sale and help support these friends maintain a Christian presence in the Holy Land.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults
Becoming Catholic

Richard Wiggins joined the life of the Risen Christ on the Easter Vigil! Through the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and Holy Eucharist He entered Jesus' Paschal Mystery. He is born again and now shares in the divine life of the Blessed Trinity! Terry Rosian was formally received into the Church and along with Richard received the fullness of the Holy Spirit in the Sacrament of Confirmation. They both received Christ in the Holy Eucharist to complete their initiation into Christ and His Church.

Their journey involved many people, most especially RCIA Team members and sponsors: Mary Jane Buehner, Sue Meinke, Janet McPeeks, Bill Moster, Bob Bobnar, Charlie Hunt, and Tim Rosian. Each person proclaimed the Good News that Christ is Risen to Terry and Richard.

Give thanks to the good Lord for His abundant graces and continue to pray for Terry and Rick.

Thank you to everyone who made our day so successful. Everyone had a great time!
